

1. How does Pip give away his real motivations for visiting Miss Havisham?
Pip is disappointed when he only meets Miss Havisham, who laughs because he came for Estella.
2. How does Orlick respond to Pip's request for a half holiday?
Orlick says that he was going to also get a half holiday and that Pip wasn't favoring just one of them.
3. Describe the incident between Mrs. Joe, Joe, and Orlick.
Mrs. Joe complains about Orlick's holiday and then fights, then Joe gets involved and defeats Orlick.
4. What does Pip find when he goes to see Miss Havisham?
He finds out that Estella has gone abroad.
5. Who does Pip see on his way home after participating in Mr. Wopsle's play?
Pip meets Orlick, who is in the shadows.
6. What does Pip discover when he returns home?
Pip discovers that Mrs Joe had been attacked.
7. Who does Mrs. Joe keep asking for, and how does Pip feel about it?
Mrs. Joe asks for Orlick, who Pip hates.
8. What does Pip confess to Biddy?
Pip confesses that he wants to be a gentleman so that Estella can possibly show feelings towards him.
9. How does Mr. Wopsle use the newspaper to show off?
Wopsle presents an article with a popular murder case, and everyone enjoys it.
10. Who does Pip meet in the Three Jolly Bargeman, and what does this person tell him?
Pip meets a lawyer named Jaggers and he gives Pip news. The news is that Pip received a large amount of money.
11. How does Pip react to his changed situation?
Pip reacts by basically putting on an air of superiority, and wants to become more backwards.
12. Give an example of someone who treats Pip differently in his changed situation
An example of someone who treats Pip differently is Pumblechook. Pumblechook was very ecstatic when Pip mentioned that he would have his new clothes sent to him, and that was intimidating.
13. Give an example of someone who treats Pip the same, even though his position in life has been elevated
Joe does not have much of a different response to Pip. Pip wishes that Joe said "It does you credit, Pip", but he did not.
14. What does Pip ask Biddy to do for Joe?
Pip asks Biddy to continue teaching Joe.
15. Describe London
It can be described as "rather ugly, crooked, narrow and dirty"
16. Pip meets two people in this section whom he has seen before. Who are they? Where does he know them from?
Jaggers and Herbert Pocket. Jaggers is the lawyer he met that gives Pip the news. Herbert Pocket is the gentleman who he fought with at Miss Havisham's house.
17. Pip catches a lucky break in this section. Do you think it has changed him? Will it change him?

18. Who do you think the secret benefactor is? Why do you think so?

I think it might be the prisoner from the beginning of the book. I think it might be the prisoner because he kind of just disappeared from the book after the previous encounter, and the author would not just introduce a character at random.

19. This section has introduced several elements of mystery. There is an attempted murder, a mysterious stranger, and a strange new place. Make a list of some of the elements from this section that you think are clues, even if you are not sure what they lead to.

I think the new place and the attempted murder might be clues themselves. Being unfamiliar with your surroundings may be suspicious, and someone might be behind all this. I think it is the prisoner or someone that is related to the prisoner.
